

Defund the Police — And Much More

by Louis Beam

Actually instead of almost all of us playing the "action/reaction game" (action by them/ reaction by us), I think we should put some clear-headed, non-compulsive thought into defunding the police and supporting the movement to do so. The police are the life support system for those who oppress us and want to destroy Western civilization. If we had to rely more on ourselves and less on the system to preserve our lives would we be less oppressed? I think so. One hundred and fifty years ago in this state (Texas) there were in most places no police, but there was freedom — much of it — with very little crime, as anti-social, harmful acts were quickly met with justice from the community. Nowadays, rapists, murderers and child abusers are protected from those who would mete out justice to them. Would not citizen-based law enforcement be a great improvement over what we have now — would it not ?

Who provides protection to the criminals who destroy our society? Who protects the elites who rule over us and seek to eradicate all we hold dear to our hearts? Who is it that protects those who destroy our monuments, our heritage, our culture and our way of life? Have you not thought at least once in your mind of meting out justice on the spot to those who tear down a statue to a hero of our past? The only reason you do not is — the police. The police will arrest you if you attempt to protect your society, your culture, your heritage, your loved ones from evil vile people — will they not?

So defund the police. We must quit being reactionary and become a people of vision. What is it we want? More police with state oppression of our freedom? I for one choose freedom.

Secondly, what would happen in democratic/left communities where they are in power if there were no police? Let your imagination run wild, for theirs will. They will self-destruct in short order. Is that not what we want? Is it not better for us if they immolate themselves? The alternative is that they will do it to everyone very soon. I support their efforts to defund the police in their communities. Let the world see them as they really are when restraints that are imposed upon them are removed. I support their effort to destroy their own miserable lives and my own right to live with good people who are loving, caring and respectful to each other.

But, will not abolishing the police bring about chaos? Yes it will. But, do we not live in the beginning stages of chaos now? And do you have any doubt that more is coming to the whole nation soon? Is there such a thing as controlled chaos? We are soon to find out. There is here and now a small chance to salvage some living area for sane, caring people if we try to manage this situation in some fashion. Otherwise, you know quite well that the inevitable chaos that is coming to this nation as it disintegrates into factions of political ideology, race and economics will be managed by them. By them I mean self-appointed billionaire elites (and those who want to be so) in the media, corporations and in the deepstate tyrannical government. You know, those who lord over you now gain each and every year ever more power over our lives and freedom. Did you ever think you would see the day queers would marry, schools would ban God, the FBI would burn churches (Waco) and shoot mothers with babies in their arms (Ruby Ridge, Idaho), police would arrest you for not wearing a mask or having a play day for your child in your own backyard, or that law enforcement would be USED to stop people who choose to come out of government-ordered isolation from attending church on Sunday? Soon these same police will prevent you from traveling if you do not have a mandated vaccine. Your freedom to choose a medical procedure for your own body will become a criminal offense. Who will enforce that government mandate of vaccine upon you and your children? When “they” come for your children or your guns, just who will “they” be?

If the defund the police movement gains enough traction in leftist controlled cities and states then the good people who live in them will quickly move to other areas that are safe and free of such mentally defective dregs of society. Destructive people who are in charge of THEMSELVES will quickly create further collapse among leftist society. No white tax base on which to thrive means they will further grow weak in power and ability to affect the rest of us. Yes, it will hasten the balkanization of our society, our cities, our states and the nation, that is quite true. Would you rather then live under them and their power as they destroy the last vestiges of the America you once loved? Will their absolute rule in no more than four years be kinder to you and yours?

What leftist are in fact demanding for themselves is a re-segregation of society. Give it to them by all means! If we segregate good people from bad people does that not provide the opportunity to refashion our own political, social and cultural goals? Until now leftist have leached their life blood off of good, caring people who could only live in proximity by the force of police power. Remove that police power and good people will move to safe and secure areas where, if they choose to do so, they can indeed have police if they want them. Good and bad people can after all only live together in the first place in an artificial manner where the police were there to maintain order to some degree. Remove the police from among them and you make it impossible for good people to live among them. That will lead to the destruction of the left and the political power that supports them. So, let us separate ourselves from each other. I for one can not live with them nor do I suspect they could live with me. Separation will lead to many social solutions that are impossible to achieve otherwise. Defund the police!

Defunding the police would mean a return to real law and real order in most communities where there are decent caring people to rule over themselves or to fund the police they wish for. Where there are not civilized cultured people it would bring destruction upon their heads. That is good for the rest of us. And, of course, it would provide a prime example to all of their foolishness, and especially for somewhat brain-dead liberals of where their ideology leads in the end. Is this a call for anarchy? Heavens no — for normal people! But, as a nation we are headed to toward anarchy at any rate. It is just a matter of when not if. In no more than four years the left will gain control of the federal government, control of the federal police agencies FBI, ATF, CIA and thirty other federal police agencies who carry guns. What do you think they will do to you when they come to power once again? Generations of gullible youth have been “educated” to think communism and socialism etc. are the way of the future for this country. In addition, because of immigration both legal and illegal to this country of a vastly different type of people who mostly vote leftist, people like you will soon never be in charge of this country again. That was the plan, was it not?

There is perhaps a small window of opportunity here to disrupt our planned destruction as a people. We must take this opportunity for what it is — a blessing in disguise — if we can but see it as such. You already know this nation is going to hell in a handbasket. The only question is who is going to carry that basket. Perhaps we can slip off with a piece of that basket and walk toward the light. One way or another a path of destruction and fall can be seen in the future before us now. Is it that perhaps you just want it to happen in someone else’s lifetime? Is it your hope to just put off that destruction to your children’s and grandchildren’s lifetime so you don’t have to deal with it? If so, then what a miserable, cowardly, self-centered wretch you are. Rather let us resolve the problem before us now or we are choosing to be in the future hunted down and murdered like South Africans are in their nation.

John Adams once said “Those who trade liberty for security have neither.” If we continue half-steps, compromises, and concessions to those who hate and wish to destroy us that quote is exactly what will happen.

But you say, “I want the police.” Then you shall have the police by funding and supporting them in your own community. If you cannot or do not support them, then why do you fund them? If you do support them, then do more than just give them lip service. Put an “I support the Local Police” bumper sticker on your vehicle. Go to them and state your willingness to provide them help if they need it, for they have an extremely difficult job day-to-day dealing with mostly the dregs of society, when of course, they are not arresting and taking to jail those of us who would defend ourselves and our communities. Let those who want them have them. Let those who do not want them care for their own communities. I am offering you freedom, liberty and community justice rather than the misuse of police authority by evil men who rule this nation, its universities, its media, its institutions...

Will lawless leftist suddenly become lawful people in their areas of control? Not a chance. Let those who created these people live with them and they will then “have their cake and eat it, too.” Let the leftists have their freedom to destroy themselves, and let us have our freedom to preserve our life, liberty and culture in the way we so choose. Then, quickly and clearly we’ll all see who and what kind of people will prosper, and who will turn quickly into rot, riot and decay.

Except where people ask for police power to be exercised over them we must choose now for an end to their life-and-death power over us. For that power grows more egregious daily. If we need them we will hire them. If not, good men and women will police themselves. Defund the police, all of them — federal, state and local. The alternative is that many of us will live to see the day when people are arrested for speaking their opinion, arrested for owning a firearm, arrested for defending their business or home. And finally arrested for opposing the Marxist revolution they seek to prevent. Defund the police.

Footnote:

Hegelian dialectics of action/reaction is the dialectical philosophy devised by Georg Hegel which underpins the entire political and social strategy of Marxists, the “democratic” or radical left, the news media and most deepstate governmental activity. The dialectical approach is thesis, antithesis, synthesis (resolution). The resolution will always be in favor of a predetermined but hidden agenda. It is used to foster “consensus-building” (compromise) and “conflict resolution” (dialog), and is the process with which Marxists control and manipulate people to obtain a predetermined outcome. Marx’s theory of dialectical materialism is an outgrowth of Hegelian dialectics.
